City Intelligence.

Roussau a Strous Box.—On Wednesday last the iron chest on the premises of Messrs John Buckley and Abraham Becker, No. 63 Vesey street, was opened by the use of keys, and its contents, consisting of $108, stolen therefrom. Among the money was an English shilling and a Portuguese dollar, both of which it was afterwards ascertained had been passed away by a colored girl, named Nancy Roussau, who had resided in the house as a servant. She was immediately arrested, but none of the money was found in her possession. After a full examination she was locked up for trial.

A person residing in the upper part of the city, has been missing for the past four days. We do not know whether he went to collect a debt due him, or visit a friend. Those who collect debts in these days, had better take a friend with them to see the result.

A colored woman, named Eliza Jackson, a colored woman, who has resided at No. 3 Little Water street, and yesterday was the subject of a continued interrogation. The coroner held an inquest, and the body was examined by Dr. Tompkins and Marshall.

A man named William

Hosack, alias Prindley, from the stable of David B.

Leavenworth, No. 23 Cornelia street. He was caught in the act and charged.

A man named Daniel Price and James Green stealing 100 pounds of butter from Joseph B. McCune,

No. 173 Grand street, and were caught, and the butter found in their possession by watchman John Allen.

Lewis McDonald was caught by Thomas Fox, a watchman, with a tub of butter supposed to have been stolen. All the above named rogues were committed to prison.

Hymns for the Times, or Reason for the Old Adam, is the chap that knows

The way to deal with freedom's foes;

He'll make you let your darlings go,

Or else the States will overthrow.

So down, down, southerners, down.

He wears your rice ain't worth a straw,

And cotton ain't a little more,

And we shall go without them all,

If that will tend to make you fall.

So down, down, southerners, down.

Oh! what a stupid pack of fools,

To think that you are more than tools—

Knives that are held by northern hands,

To see the States will overthrow.

So down, down, southerners, down.

(Correspondence of the Herald.)

CLAREMONT, N. H., Feb. 1, 1842.

The Herald—Jas. G. Bennett—Protracted Meetings—

Circumstances—Perfectionists—Banks—Royal Family—

Leaves Editor, &c.

DEAR SIR:

Since my last communication, I have been traveling most of the time through the State of Vermont, and was greatly surprised at nearly every place where I stopped, to witness the eagerness manifested by the people generally to catch a glimpse at your invaluable Herald. "Ah!" says one, "the Herald is decidedly the best paper, on all accounts, of any journal whatever, published in the Union."

"Yes," says another, "and Jas. G. Bennett, the editor, is the most remarkable and astonishing genius of the age. I cannot but admire his frankness and manly independence." "So do I," says a third—"and then his articles on the money market are the most sensible and profound of any that I have seen; and will, unquestionably, be the means, in great measure, of establishing a sound and healthy currency in the country." These, sir, are but a few among the thousands of remarks daily made respecting the Herald; they are sufficient, however, to show, in a degree, its great and deserved popularity, especially among the cultivators of the soil, tradesmen, and mechanics.

The protracted meetings, of which I made mention in a former epistle, are now brought to a close, (having continued, at intervals, seventy-two days), and the excitement occasioned in consequence, has nearly subsided. Quite a number of enthusiastic individuals, not particularly noted either for their sagacity or intelligence, have been striving, with all the facilities they possess, to get religion before the millennium, which, according to Joe Miller and Dr. Lardner, will place AD. 1843; how well they succeeded, I cannot say. Time, the correct-or of all things, will set a matter in its true light.

Among the most prominent characters who were suddenly and wonderfully wrought upon, and "brought out" at these meetings, are two of the most interesting persons I have met. One is the wife of a "National Edge," a jovial, good natured, soft of a fellow, who evidently possesses more zeal and energy than his wife. He is a native of New Jersey, aged 31 years, who died at N. 131 Anthony street, on Thursday night, Dr. Edwards, of Pearl street, was called by her husband to attend her, and she died, and was buried, on the same day.

The other is a young man, named William Palmer, and George Wellesley, who were arrested on Wednesday night by Justice Parker and officer Boy, on suspicion of being pickpockets, were discharged yesterday, and being on their way home, they were stopped by a man, who, on seeing them, said

"Whether guilty or not the arrest was premature."

If they followed the business they were suspected of they should never have been arrested until they committed an act sufficient to commit them for trial.

STOLEN CHAIN CABLE.—John Blaney was caught yesterday in the act of stealing 25 feet of chain cable from Weaver & Gant, No. 130 South street, and was committed to prison for trial.

MANY ROGUES AGAIN.—Sawell, the man who was arrested in New Jersey, on a charge of supposed knowledge of the death of Mary C. Rogers, has been finally discharged by the Mayor, there not being any evidence against him. He is now at liberty, and is supposed to have returned to his native place.

Who was she, and what has become of her?

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

Before Judge INGRAM.

Black Flag of Anti-Slavery. This was headed by Dan O'Connell and Father Matthew, backed by 60,000 other Irishmen. Of course this was a distinct appeal to the sympathies of the Irish of Boston and vicinity, and they answered the call to the number of about 1200, as near as we could judge—

The Hall filled at an early hour—numbering in all at least three thousand. The meeting was called to order by Francis Jackson—subsequently William Lloyd Garrison was chosen President by acclamation, and Francis Jackson, Effingham L. Cal-phon, Mass.; George Bradburn, Mass.; a Mr. Fuller of New York; Col. Miller, Vt.; N. P. Rogers, N. H. Vice Presidents. And when the organization had been completed, the President arose and the shouts and cheers of the immense throng to address them on the momentous occasion. Here,
